The 19 students enrolled in Management #61 continue to display an avid interest in the material presented to them. On Friday, two groups of students participated in the communication exercise at the same time. Although no competition was intended, the increased tension made the exercise an even more valuable tool for displaying the problems of communication than it had been before. [REDACTED] of A & E aided in the exercise.

General

[REDACTED] returned from his course at the Army Management School at Ft. Belvoir. His first lecture included the verb "concretize" apparently caused by his exposure to Army terminology.

[REDACTED] gave a short talk on the subject of the supervision of foreign nationals to a group of students taking a Logistics course.
